The Individual Achievement Award recognizes outstanding accomplishment by an individual who, over his or her career, has made a significant contribution to the Aboriginal business community and serves as a role model to all.

Angelique Merasty Levac, a Métis, has revitalized the artistic tradition of birch bark biting and found an entrepreneurial home for her craft and the works of other First Nations in her store, Angelique's Native Arts. Located in Prince George, the business has been in operation for 16 years. The ability to marry artistic endeavors with an entrepreneurial spirit while meeting the demands of the market place is an excellent role model. Angelique's talents and success will inspire the next generation of Aboriginal creativity and entrepreneurship.
