

Halifax Learning Circle Update

The Halifax learning Circle was waiting on the Environics research which has now reported. When we last talked, they were interested in using this research to do some collaborative policy development using academics, policy people, and practitioners. I'll check in and see if there is any news on this front.

In Halifax we have had the following number participating:

Academics: 2

Policy: 2

Practitioners: 3

Update: Chris Corrigan, 18 April 2010
